ADAM SMITH

17.5 year Green Beret Veteran

Adam is 17-year US Army veteran who finished his career as a US Army Special Forces Green Beret with multiple overseas deployments.

Since leaving the military Adam has worn many hats. Contractor, tactical trainer, Crossfit gym owner, corporate VP and motivational coach. Through all this one thing has remained constant, Adam's mission to bring awareness to PTSD. Adam has drawn from his own battle and victory over PTSD to help those still outside the wire fighting their demons.

In 2015 Adam and fellow Green Beret Zachary Garner completed "The Ride to Valhalla", a 5000-mile cross country ride to bring awareness to veteran suicide and PTSD and raise money for the Task Force Dagger Foundation.

It was during this ride Adam was introduced to cannabinoids and his eyes were opened. He wanted to spread the word and understand the science. An idea was born. A company was formed with the mission to help veterans and first responders heal using cannabinoids... Allied Corp!

Adam is currently Brand Ambassador for Tactical Relief and has also recently co-founded an impact coaching company called Forge Legend. Adam and his wife Megan have recently moved to North Carolina to be closer to the veteran community. Adam believes his purpose in life is to create impact in the world. He has lived more than one lifetime in his 38 years, and he isn't slowing down anytime soon.

DAVE LIPSON

Lipson is a world-renowned athlete that founded an elite athlete training company called “Thunderbro”. As a professional baseball player and now a strength and conditioning leader, Lipson travels the world training trainers on how nutrition, training and athletic mind set impact sport performance and life. Lipson’s National reputation in the United States has several thousands of followers that adhere to his training programs and is well respected athlete within the trainer community. Lipson has trained entertainment celebrities, professional Major League Baseball and National Football League athletes and Cross-fit Games champions.

Thundrbro is a training and lifestyle brand with a goal to bring quality products, information, and resources to help people live optimally. Building a camaraderie and respect for every member of the Thunderbro community is rooted in brotherhood, hard work, and optimal living. The strong vision that Thunderbro brings to the world aligns with Allied’s vision to help those suffering heal within community. Peer support and access to resources is a large part of what Allied offers. Included in this is Allied’s products that are offered under it’s four brands: Equilibrium Bio, Tactical Relief, MaXXa and Buds Pure Naturals. Under each brand there are several products currently offered for sale.

“I believe that what the Allied team is building perfectly aligns with the Thunderbro approach to life. Hard work, elevated mindset and a healthy approach to life is what the Thunderbro tribe strives for. I believe in the products and stand behind Allied’s vision in creating pharmaceutical and natural health products for targeted health and wellness.”

CAMILLE LEBLANC

Camille Leblanc earned the title of "Fittest Woman on Earth" when she won the 2014 CrossFit Games. Camille has a large and engaged fan-base of athletes and trainers on social media that exceeds over 2 million followers. Her social media audience is representative of consumers of the products under Allied's brands: Equilibrium Bio, Tactical Relief and MaXXa. The target market of this brand is top-level athletes and people who enjoy playing sports at a competitive level.

Camille is a nine-year individual CrossFit Games veteran and is one of CrossFit's most enduring athletes. In 2014, and has finished in the top 10 in four out of her nine Games appearances, also winning five out of height regional competitions. A former gymnast, Camille Leblanc currently serves on the CrossFit Level 1 Seminar Staff. She also has a degree in chemical engineering. Camille is also sponsored by Redbull energy drinks and is often invited to attend Reebok athlete events as a spokesperson.

The Equilibrium Bio electrolyte replacement drinks ("Hydro Sport") will be a good fit for post activity recovery and rehydration. "We intend to bring an educational component to athletes regarding the authentic benefits that the Allied products offer. I believe in the products and stand behind Allied's vision in creating pharmaceutical and natural health products for targeted health and wellness." says Camille LeBlanc, Allied Brand Ambassador.

BUD's Pure Naturals - ALL IN ONE SHAMPOO

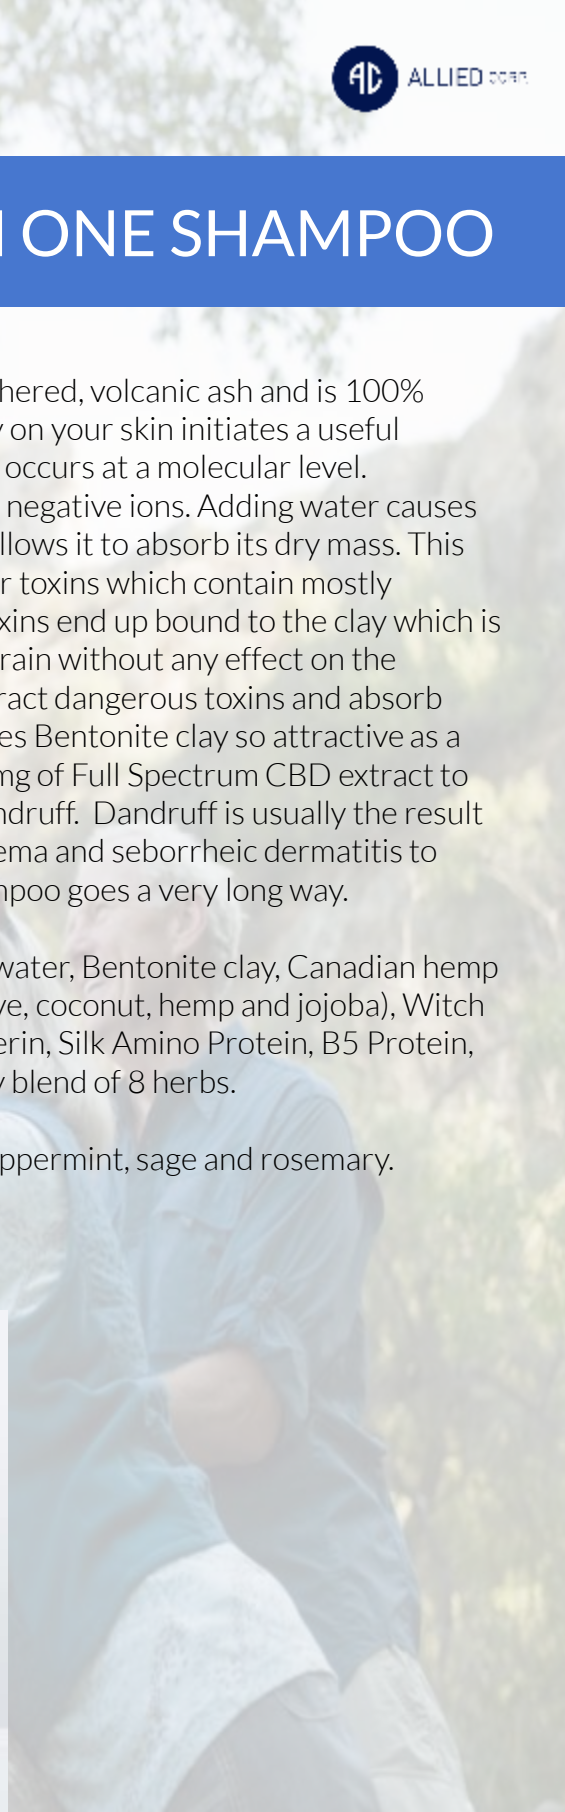

Bentonite clay is made of weathered, volcanic ash and is 100% natural. Putting Bentonite clay on your skin initiates a useful chemical process. This process occurs at a molecular level. Bentonite clay contains mostly negative ions. Adding water causes Bentonite clay to expand and allows it to absorb its dry mass. This attracts heavy metals and other toxins which contain mostly positive ions. These harmful toxins end up bound to the clay which is washed harmlessly down the drain without any effect on the environment. The ability to attract dangerous toxins and absorb them in a safe way is what makes Bentonite clay so attractive as a detoxifying agent. Add the 50 mg of Full Spectrum CBD extract to the mix and say goodbye to dandruff. Dandruff is usually the result of dry skin, scalp psoriasis, eczema and seborrheic dermatitis to name a few. A little of this shampoo goes a very long way.

KEY INGREDIENTS: Purified water, Bentonite clay, Canadian hemp CBD isolate, Sponified oils (olive, coconut, hemp and jojoba), Witch hazel, Vinegar, Vegetable Glycerin, Silk Amino Protein, B5 Protein, Vital Hair Extracts, Proprietary blend of 8 herbs.

ESSENTIAL OILS: lavender, peppermint, sage and rosemary.
